

"FOR THE FAMILY" SUNDAY CRAFT EXPERIENCE AT PHILADELPHIA ART ALLIANCE

This Spring, the Philadelphia Art Alliance will open its doors, every last Sunday of the month, for families looking to experience modern craft exhibitions together. The "For the Family" Sunday craft experience is designed for parents with small children, age 4-12, who want to experience arts and culture as a family. The next one will be held on Sunday, March 28, at 12 noon.

Every last Sunday of the month during exhibitions, parents and kids can take an educational tour through the PAA exhibitions and partake in kid-friendly craft activities on the 3rd floor parlor space. With each changing exhibition, PAA will offer new educational guides and activities, in conjunction with the new themes and media covered in the exhibitions. This one-of-a-kind experience is sure to please families of all shapes and sizes.

Sculpture from Darla Jackson's exhibit "While You Were Out..."

For this exhibition cycle, PAA will focus on Darla Jackson's 1st floor exhibit "While You Were Out..." Explore the exhibit with an educational guide, and then head up to the third floor where kids can color their own version of the animal sculptures in the exhibit. Families will be able to take their finished coloring book pages home with them as a memorable keepsake.

Recently, members of the City Avenue Business Alliance (CABA) gathered for a breakfast networking event and seminar at Avril BYOB, the new restaurant on Bala Avenue. Raymond Gutowski of Raymond James Associates, Inc. gave an interesting seminar on Emerging Markets - Current Climate and Future Opportunities, informing attendees of the benefits of investing in countries other than the United States for a "healthy portfolio." The business networking arm of the City Avenue Special Services District, CABA is a beneficial group for the area, bringing business leaders together. For information about the District, call 610-747-0311 or visit www.cityave.org.
